A Word From Our Founders

Dear Future Partners,

6Degrees technology enhances our partner ecosystems with powerful solutions, as well as a margin friendly pricing structure to increase our partners bottom lines.

At 6Degrees, we believe that a partner network is the most successful way for us to grow our business. This requires us to not compete with our partners, but rather to empower them with tools, training, and information that allows our partners to proactively sell or bundle 6Degrees' solutions into their customer base and help develop new customers.

We are excited to build a new partner network in the Connected Wearable Health arena and look forward to working with highly engaged and professional entrepreneurs and businesses to grow it.

We look forward to working with each of you.

Partner Level Overview

6Degrees Channel Partner Program is designed to help our partners capitalize on 6Degrees's market leadership. As a channel-oriented company, we view our partners as an extension of our team, playing a key role in how our solution go to market; and the overall success of the company.

OEM/Distribution – Highest Level

Partners who qualify for OEM status have demonstrated exceptional business performance, measured by revenue, support, training, and the willingness to commit to 1,000+ units each year. They have a demonstrated expertise in the wearables and/or healthcare and multiple members of their teams have been certified with 6Degrees. Additionally, they have proven their ability to integrate 6Degrees into their customer base and/or current solutions.

Platinum Partners – Mid Level

Partners who qualify for Platinum status have demonstrated exceptional business performance, measured by revenue, support, training, and the willingness to commit to 500+ units each year. They have a demonstrated expertise in the wearables and/or healthcare and multiple members of their teams have been certified with 6Degrees. Additionally, they have proven their ability to integrate 6Degrees into their current customer base.

Gold Partners – Lowest Level

This level of the program is open to any company offering full support of wearables and/or healthcare & first line support that is ready to sell the 6Degrees solution. At this level the requirements are minimal and 6Degrees offers a number of basic benefits to open an engagement with your group and get you off to a successful start selling 6Degrees.

Affiliate & Agency – Entry Level

The Affiliate & Agency Level of the program is open to any person (influencer) or group that has reach into a large already in place audience. Affiliates are rewarded for meeting target goals.
